ABOUT ABHIPSA PAL

Abhipsa Pal is an Associate Professor in the Management Information Systems area at the Indian Institute of Management Calcutta. She holds a PhD in Information Systems from the Indian Institute of Management Bangalore and a BTech in Computer Science. Prior to her academic career, she worked in the technology industry at Infosys and was also a faculty member at IIM Kozhikode.

Pal's research focuses on digital payments, technology adoption, ICT for development, financial inclusion, and the societal impact of digital technologies. Through her research, she examines how technology can promote inclusive and human-centred development, particularly among marginalized communities and microentrepreneurs.
